

Your statement: An abbreviated guide

At Edward Jones, we view your statement as an essential information source for your decision-making. The easier it is for you to understand your statement, the more empowered you'll be to make decisions for your future.

What's in this guide?

The content in this guide provides an overview of what is commonly found on client statements. Because it's a summary, you won't see all information about all statement details. Contact your financial advisor for more information or visit edwardjones.com/printstatementguide to see a comprehensive statement guide.

*Your Rate of Return for each individual asset above is as of Jan. 26, 2018. Returns greater than 12 months are annualized.

Your Rate of Return in the Asset Details section above measures the investment performance of each of your individual assets. It incorporates the timing of your additions and withdrawals and reflects commissions and fees paid. Reviewing your Rate of Return is important to help ensure you're on track to achieving your financial goals.

The performance of your investments has been tracked since they have been held in the current account, but no earlier than Jan. 1, 2009. Certain events, including a transfer of an investment between accounts, share class conversion or change in an investment's identification code (CUSIP) caused by a corporate action, will impact the time frame over which the investment's rate of return is calculated.

Information used to calculate performance may have been obtained from third parties and Edward Jones cannot guarantee the accuracy of such information.

For the most current information, contact your financial advisor or visit edwardjones.com/performance.

The automatic setting is to display rate of return for each security you hold.* You may instead choose to display one of the following for each of your securities:

- Cost basis information for each lot (includes a lot for dividend reinvestments, if applicable)
- Cost basis and unrealized gain/loss
- Basic holdings (price, quantity, value)

In addition, you may also include additional asset details beneath the names of each of your securities (e.g., the symbol, CUSIP, asset category, research rating and/or estimated yield).

Talk with your financial advisor for additional information about option eligibility and if you need guidance with selecting your preference(s).

*You additionally receive the account-level rate of return section on a monthly basis.

The above is an estimate of the interest and dividends you can expect to earn on your investments in the next 12 months but it is only an estimate and cannot be guaranteed by Edward Jones or the issuers of the securities. The estimate is known as the Estimated Annual Income or EAI. It is based on past interest and dividend payments made by the securities held in your account. It is also based on statements made by the issuers of those securities. The estimates project possible future interest and dividend payments based on the number of bonds or shares held in your account at the time the estimate was done. Your actual investment income may be higher or lower than the estimated amounts. Estimates for certain types of securities that have a return of principal or capital gain may be overstated. Income being reinvested is indicated with . Income cannot be estimated for the securities indicated by . It cannot be estimated because the annual payment amount or frequency is not available at this time.

Table by month: Provides estimated totals as well as the amounts reinvested and not reinvested. You may also choose to see your estimated monthly totals illustrated with a bar graph.
